

Mott, ND
My Own Topic Time, Notedly Displayed

My Open Spaces

Choose a topic and reading materials of personal interest to you in order to create a project for yourself, and, hopefully, others.

1 Read about your topic during MOTT. (at least 60 min. each week)

- Stay awake.
- Put homework away.
- Focus on reading only.
- Share after reading time.
- Complete other activities later.

Peruse information.

2 Represent your learning and thoughts in your notebook.

Free response suggestions:

Statements: I learned, I wonder, I agree, I disagree, This is like, etc.

Representations: pictures, pictographs, webs, lists, relationships, graphic organizers, etc.

Structured Response suggestions:

Reflection questions: How would you use this information?

How important is the information to you? Why?

What do you find most interesting about the information? Why?

What are some questions you have about what you have read?

How is what you read different from what you thought you know?

Actions : Construct a graphic organizer representing something you found interesting.

Construct a picture of something you just read about.

Construct a pictograph of something important to your topic.

Process information.

3 Interact with others to share your information.

Share information: Display a summary or clarification of your MOTT interests.

Poster, brochure, flowchart, graphic organizer, skit, handout, PowerPoint, oral report, web page, etc.

Produce information.
